Management's responsibility for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Nexus Youth Services

Notes to Financial Statements

March 31, 2017

1 Nature of activities

Nexus Youth Services (the organization) was incorporated on September 6, 1985 under the laws of the Province of Ontario as a non-share capital corporation. Its purpose is to provide counselling services and programs to youth in need, under contracts with the Ministry of Children and Youth Services (the Ministry).

The organization is designated as a registered charity and accordingly is exempt from income tax and is entitled to issue official income tax receipts in respect of contributions.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies

Basis of presentation

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations (ASNPO) applied within the framework of the accounting policies summarized below.

Revenue recognition

The organization follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions, which includes donations from the United Way, fundraising and government grants from the Ministry, the Region of Peel and the City of Mississauga.

Operating grants are recorded as revenue in the period to which they relate. For grants approved and services provided, but for which funds were not received at the end of an accounting period, a receivable is accrued and recorded as revenue. Where a grant has been received and a portion of it relates to a future period or is provided for a specific use, it is deferred and recognized in the subsequent period or when the related expenses are incurred.

Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Contributed services

The work of the organization is supported by contributions of services. The organization does not record the value of contributed services unless the fair value can be reasonably estimated and the services are normally purchased by the organization and would be paid for if not contributed.

The value of the services contributed by volunteers is not reflected in these financial statements.

Financial instruments

Financial instruments are recorded at fair value on initial recognition. Financial instruments are subsequently recorded at cost or amortized cost, unless management has elected to carry the instrument at fair value.

Nexus Youth Services

Notes to Financial Statements

March 31, 2017

Transaction costs incurred on the acquisition of financial instruments measured subsequently at fair value are expensed as incurred. All other financial instruments are adjusted by transaction costs incurred on acquisition and financing costs, which are amortized on a straight-line basis.

Financial assets are assessed for impairment on an annual basis at the end of the fiscal year if there are indicators of impairment. If there is an indicator of impairment, the organization determines whether there is a significant adverse change in the expected amount or timing of future cash flows from the financial asset. If there is a significant adverse change in the expected cash flows, the carrying value of the financial asset is reduced to the highest of: (i) the present value of the expected cash flows; (ii) the amount that could be realized from selling the financial asset; or (iii) the amount the organization expects to realize by exercising its right to any collateral. If events and circumstances reverse in a future period, an impairment loss will be reversed to the extent of the improvement, not exceeding the initial carrying value. Impairments are recognized through the use of an allowance account, with a corresponding charge in the statement of operations.

It is management's opinion that the organization is not exposed to significant interest rate risk, credit risk and foreign currency risk.

Internally restricted amounts

The internally restricted amounts have been restricted by a motion of the Board of Directors (the Board) to be used to fund future operations and other special projects. Use of this amount is at the discretion of the Board.

On an annual basis, the Board approves the use of the internally restricted amount to fund the operations up to a maximum amount based on the annual budget. Any amounts required in excess of this approved amount or for additional special projects are approved by the Board on an ad hoc basis.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with ASNPO requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of certain assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and operating costs during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3 Related entity

The organization has a relationship with Peel Children's Centre in that the organizations have a common Board of Directors. The common Board was implemented when a decision was made by both Boards of Directors to enter into a strategic alliance that would result in administrative operating efficiencies. The organization was incorporated in 1985 under the laws of the Province of Ontario as a non-share capital corporation. The organization is designated as a registered charity and accordingly is exempt from income taxes and is entitled to issue official income tax receipts in respect of contributions.

As outlined below, Peel Children's Centre provided the following services and support to the organization for which it was reimbursed. As at March 31, 2017, there was an amount of $26,204 (2016 - $112,411) due to Peel Children's Centre. This amount is unsecured, non-interest bearing and due on demand.
