

Workshop Training Series, Fall 2018

Helping Youth Experiencing Substance Use and Mental Health Difficulties

PROGRAM INFORMATION

The Concurrent Disorders Program aims to increase the capacity of organizations and service providers in Peel to respond to youth with concurrent mental health and substance use concerns.

Research has consistently shown that a coordinated and integrated approach to both is important for successful outcomes.

Workshops in the area of concurrent disorders are offered at various times throughout the year. These sessions address some of the information and skill-sets necessary for effective recognition of, and engagement with, this population of youth. Although each workshop is designed as a stand-alone session, participants are encouraged to consider attending additional trainings being offered. These workshops are appropriate for anyone who works with young people in a helping role, including: mental health clinicians, community and school counsellors, crisis workers, public health nurses, probation officers, and child and youth workers. Workshops can also be tailored to meet the unique needs of your organization.

In addition to our workshop series, Peel Children's Centre offers the First Contact Group for youth ages 14 to 18 years. This four-week group, which meets every Wednesday evening from 6:00 pm – 7:30 pm starting November 7, 2018, helps youth increase their awareness of substance use, understand how it impacts them, and develop strategies to begin replacing it with other healthier options. At each youth's request, a fifth session will be offered at the end of the group for parents and supportive others to learn ways to help the youth with their goals. The First Contact Group is provided in partnership with Nexus Youth Services and is free to all participants. For more information or to make a potential referral to this group, contact Garth Buckley, Clinical Coordinator, Concurrent Disorders Program at (905) 795-3500 ext. 2200 or gbuckley@peelcc.org.
